

HNReserve — Client Disclosure & Agreement

This document outlines the operational framework, risk disclosures, and client obligations associated with participation in services referenced by HNReserve. By engaging with HNReserve, you acknowledge and accept the following terms.

1. Nature of Services

HNReserve operates as a private capital group providing market commentary and discretionary capital allocation activities. No service constitutes investment advice, solicitation, or guarantee of returns.

2. Risk Disclosure

- Trading and capital allocation involve substantial risk, including potential total loss of capital.
- Digital assets and derivatives are volatile and may experience rapid price changes.
- Past performance is not indicative of future results.

3. Operational Principles

- No leverage guarantees are provided.
- Continuous market exposure is not maintained.
- Capital may be held in cash equivalents as a strategic position.

4. Capital Constraints

- Intake of capital may be limited at any time.
- HNReserve reserves the right to refuse or discontinue capital allocation.
- Allocation capacity is managed based on market conditions and operational limits.

5. Communication Policy

- Official communication is conducted via Telegram only.
- No unsolicited direct messages are initiated by HNReserve.
- Verification may be required prior to service activation.

6. Payments & Verification

Payments are conducted manually using USDT on the Solana (SPL) network. Clients are responsible for ensuring accuracy of transactions. Proof of payment is required for verification.

7. Limitation of Liability

HNReserve, its operators, and affiliates shall not be liable for any direct or indirect losses arising from participation, market conditions, or technical issues.

By proceeding, you confirm that you have read, understood, and accepted this disclosure and agreement.